Via Briston, R. L.

A geotleman of white kid and lavender proposities entered a music store and inquired for a cupy of Solomon's Song.—

The salesman not being able to remember any music with that title, replied that he had not seen it.

Ah, said the amateur, drawing on his kids, perhaps it is not out yet. Our rector spoke of it last Sunday as a production of great genins, and I want my daughter to learn it.

His exit was followed with a subdued laugh from the salesman.
